

Addressed to Chairman Powell, it is incomprehensible to me that neither you nor the majority on your committee have learned from the experience of deregulating power. The ability to concentrate leads to nothing more than the scalping of the public.